DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 3-4, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 1 recites a range of crystallite sizes of 9.5 nm or less. This specification as originally filed does not disclose to the skilled artisan that the inventors considered the range to be part of their invention. See MPEP 2163.05 III. The value of 9.5 nm does not appear the disclosure. The disclosure as originally filed, instead supports less than 10 nm. See original claim 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1736

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-4, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Cockett '547.

In regard to claim 1, Cockett teaches an aluminum and magnesium hydrotalcite-like substance prepared without aging and having a crystallite size (avg.) in the range of the claim. See Table 1 of Cockett. The claim recites product-by-process limitations which limit the claims only in terms of the structural implications of the recited steps. The structural implication(s) of the steps recited are met because the recited properties are the same, and structural differences provided by any difference in process steps have not been established. A product of the prior art the appears to be the same as that claimed anticipates or renders obvious the claimed product even though it is produced by a different process. See MPEP 2113.

In regard to claim 3, Cockett teaches a carbonic acid type (since sodium carbonate is used) and thus has a basal spacing in range of the claim.

In regard to claim 4, Cockett is silent regarding the ion adsorption or ion exchange behavior in the co-presence of carbonate ions. However, the product of Cockett appears to be the same as that of the instant invention (see above regarding claims 1 and 3 and below regarding claim 25), thus the product of Cockett would have the same properties including ion adsorption and ion exchange behavior. See MPEP 2112.01.

In regard to claim 25, Cockett teaches ratios of aluminum to magnesium in the range of the claim including 1:2.6 and 1:4. See Table 1 of Cockett.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-4, and 25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
